

Questions Commonly Asked by Young Children (3-11)

What's that daddy? What's that mommy? (child points to parts of the body)
How long does a baby grow inside the mother?
How did I get inside Mommy? How did I get out?
(Girl) Why don't I have a penis?
(Boy) Why does my penis get hard?
What are these for? (sanitary pads, tampons)
Why do I have a belly button?
When can I have a baby?
How does milk get in the mommy's breasts?
Do boys have periods? Why do girls have periods?
Why don't boys get breasts?
Do men ever marry other men or women other women?
What is a condom/rubber?
What are wet dreams?
(Boys) Why is my penis smaller than Daddy's/older friends?
(Girls) Why are my breasts smaller than Mommy's/friends?
What does "gay" mean?
When are you old enough to have sex?
How do you know when you are going to get your period?
What is a virgin?

Top Ten Questions from Teens

I like someone who doesn't know it? How can I tell him/her?
My friend is doing something that he/she shouldn't be doing. What should I do?
Why do boys think anything that has to do with body parts is funny?
What is oral sex?
When am I ready to have sex?
Why do people have sex if there's a risk of getting a STD?
How do I know if I'm gay?
What should I do if I want to tell someone something, but I don't know if I can trust the person?
What are the bases?
What is the normal age to get your period?
Questions compiled from myhealthmn formerly the WSTC